Hospital Fund Reports Swell Total To $46,719

Campaign May Bring Total Of Fund Up To $50,000 Before Conclusion

BLOCK CHAIRMEN'S REPORTS ARE GIVEN

Hospital Officials Much Enthused Over Outcome Of Campaign Efforts

Growing almost hourly, the total pledges for the Janson Memorial Hospital campaign now show $46,719.41, a handsome surplus over the $40,000 that was the original goal. A number of other subscriptions are to come in yet and it is possible that the total may reach $50,000.

In addition, there are some subscriptions, particularly among employees of industries that were made for one year and will likely be repeated next year. The campaign itself is for a two-year period, but some preferred to make their subscriptions for but the one year.

Because of the outstanding work done by the block chairmen and their workers in the campaign the directors feel that the public should know what they did and their names and amounts are printed below. There can be no comparison

PA NEW OBSERVES

Almost every limb of a bare tree along the Highland Heights to New Wilmington road was occupied by a white chicken the other evening. From afar they looked like white crows.

Dear Pa New:—

I wish to call attention to tree lovers of a new disease that has appeared. It is the shoe string fungus that has attacked the Tree of Heaven. This tree will grow in most any location and under poor conditions. This disease is a tough lace work of coarse stringy strands which appears under the bark of the tree and causes the bark to turn brown and to crumble in a powdered form. The Tree of Heaven is supposed to be immune from disease, and is classed as a weed and is held as not being desirable by many people. So it will be well to watch this tree for the new disease especially the Mountain Ash as it is susceptible to this disease on account of its bark construction.

Pa New observes that the city scraper is engaged in putting the streets of the Croton district in shape for the winter season. Most of the Croton streets are in better shape this year than they have for some time.

Pa New is asked to caution motorists travelling the Croton avenue hill to be unusually careful, as the result of an accident of yesterday afternoon. One motorist informed Pa New that a blind youth, guided by a dog was travelling the hill. Because of the fact that there is no sidewalk on the hill, pedestrians are obliged to travel in the

Injunction On Guffey Coal Act Will Be Sought

Appeal To Be Presented To Supreme Court Chief Justice

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Moving swiftly to balk the government, counsel for James W. Carter notified the department of Justice today that it will seek an injunction against enforcement of the Guffey coal act from Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes of the supreme court.

This action followed a surprise move this morning in which Carter's attorneys thrust a constitutional issue before the high court on a petition for review of their unsuccessful efforts in the District of Columbia Supreme Court to halt collection of the 15 per cent tonnage tax.

Chief Justice Hughes was expected to reserve decision on the application for injunction, possibly referring the question to the entire court of nine justices.

DAYTON, O., Oct. 31.—Condition of the four surviving fliers was reported as improved today as an army inquiry board opened an investigation into the fatal crash here of the half-million dollar Boeing bomber, Maj. P. P. Hill, chief of the Wright field flying staff, died of burns a few hours after the unexplained destruction of the "flying fortress".

Still in a serious condition was the co-pilot, Leslie Tower, Seattle, Wash., who flew the giant fighting craft here from the west coast early in August to undergo army tests. While Tower is not out of danger, physicians expressed hope for his recovery.

District Near Binghamton Is Again Flooded

(International News Service)
BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 31.—With parts of Norwich and Oxford flooded after cloudbursts last night, the Chenango river was rising here today and a rise of at least nine feet by noon was predicted by the weather bureau.

In the center of Oxford the water was four feet deep. In Norwich lowlying streets were inundated. The main Binghamton-Norwich highway has been washed out between Oxford and Norwich, at the same point where the heaviest damage was done in the great flood of last July. The river is out of its banks at many points.

The flooded area has not yet fully recovered from the July disaster.

LEAGUE ECONOMIC SANCTIONS LIKELY EFFECTIVE NOVEMBER 15

(Copyright, 1935, By International News Service)
GENEVA, Oct. 31.—Economic embargoes and boycotts against Italy will be given just two weeks to bring Premier Mussolini to terms.

If they fail in that time, it was learned today, more stringent measures to halt the war in Ethiopia will be considered.

November 15, it was reliably indicated as the sanctions committee of 52 nations gathered here today, will be set as "a time for actual operation of economic sanctions."

Leaving the sanctions general staff committee of 18 to watch over the application of these measures, the commission of 52 will adjourn to

Part Of Italian Army Reaches Torrid Section Known As "The Hell-Hole"

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 31.—While the League of Nations met in an attempt to throttle Italy economically, her armies in Ethiopia started a fresh push westward across the Danakil Desert in the region of Mount Mussa Ali, according to an official announcement here today.

The Italian outposts already have reached a point inland near the point where the British writer Nesbitt discovered the temperature was 157 degrees Fahrenheit and labelled the region "the hell-hole of creation."

Italian Supply Train Victim
Fighting in the most intolerable heat ever endured by man, the Italians already have found out that tales of the ferocity of the Danakil savages are not fiction, but the most bitter truth.

Walker, who was Mrs. Thomas Alva Edison before the latter's death, said she and the new bridegroom have not decided where they will make their home and that their present plans call for several months' traveling.

Already one of the Italian supply trains has been surrounded and wiped out.

Naked and invisible in the dead of night, a horde of warriors of the Assamara tribe, one of the fiercest in the entire Danakil desert, attacked the Italians not far from the Eritrean frontier.

They killed many men and captured many camels, according to the Ethiopian government's official announcement.

The new Italian push is obviously HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—Today was the last day for Pennsylvania motorists to get the familiar "O. K." sticker for their windshields; beginning tomorrow highway patrolmen and local police will arrest those who drive without the current sticker.

The end of October marks the end of the state's second annual compulsory automobile inspection campaign which started August 1, one month later than usual.

Bureau of motor vehicles officials said they anticipated 1,500,000 cars had been inspected but said they had no up-to-date figures because of the last-minute rush to inspection stations, as usual, making it impossible to keep abreast the figures.

South Side Annual Hallowe'en Celebration To Take Place Tonight

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Edward E. Hughes, retired Franklin, Pa., steel manufacturer and lawyer, and his bride, the former Mrs. Mina Miller Edison, widow of the late inventor, were honeymooning today following their marriage here in a quiet ceremony.

The marriage of the couple, each about 70 years of age, culminated a romance that started at a summer course of the Chautauqua institute where they spend the warm weather seasons. The wedding ceremony attended only by immediate relatives, was performed in the home Mrs. Edison inherited from her father, Lewis Miller, co-founder of the institute.

Mrs. Hughes, who was Mrs. Thomas Alva Edison before the latter's death, said she and the new bridegroom have not decided where they will make their home and that their present plans call for several months' traveling.

Chest Report Friday Night

Stupendous Efforts Being Made In Final Hours Of Campaign

HOPE FOR LARGE SPURT IN TOTAL

New Castle is making a stupendous effort today and tomorrow to finish up the campaigns they have undertaken during the last month.

Our city has shown its desire to help the sick by the splendid report of the hospital campaign on Tuesday night and campaign leaders are confident that it will look after the well being of its youth at the final report of the Character Chest campaign on Friday night.

The many classes and clubs sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A. and the Boy Scouts which are training our future leaders in self government and good citizenship must go on as well as the other splendid services rendered by these organizations. Leaders are sure that New Castle will fulfill the campaign slogan and "be a friend to youth".

The goblins plan to ride tonight, the witches and their imps, and folks will dress like buccaneers and Indians and shrimps. It's Hallowe'en and cross the sky, the goblins write their trail, they always come on Hallowe'en and never never fall. And little boys and little girls who've done things slightly wrong, will only see the goblins broom and will not hear their song. So on with parties and parades, let every one be gay, it is the night for make believe, it's sixty-four today.

ALEXANDRIA HARBOR SEEMS TO BE JINX

By EDWARD HUNTER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ALEXANDRIA, Oct. 31.—Many hours late out of Alexandria, "jinx harbor" of the eastern Mediterranean, the Dollar liner President Monroe of San Francisco today is standing by the Greek steamer Ismini, in distress in pounding seas 45 miles northwest of here.

Steaming to the Ismini's aid is the British cruiser Devonshire, the victim yesterday of the gale, when she tore loose from her moorings in the harbor, tossing clumsily about dangerously close to munitions-laden ships.

The President Monroe herself was delayed because of the sandstorm, blown up from the desert by the mile-a-minute gale that paralyzed shipping in Alexandria port.

The Ismini is a 2,400-ton vessel. Another marine disaster that began to make sailors think of Alexandria as a Jonah was the recent burning of the Italian liner Ausonia within the harbor, spreading terror through the war-frightened city.

pital near collapse from shock. She was struck on the head and kicked. Police picked up the trail of the "kiss bandits" as they hurried Miss Johnson from their car but the pair escaped amid a hail of shots after running their stolen automobile into a tree.

Tells Of Abduction

Miss Johnson, in a statement to police, gave a graphic account of her abduction.

"I was hit over the head with something and dragged into a car," she related.

"When I recovered I was out in the country. I don't know where.

Every time I saw a car coming, I tried to yell but they would shut me up. I remember one time seeing a policeman in a cruising car, but they held my head down and were not noticed.

"Another time they drove the car through a cornfield when they thought we were being chased. I pleaded with them all the time that they take me home but they would not listen. Finally, they left me out at the Burton school."

Leap From Car.

The two young women, sisters-in-law, were taking a walk last night when the bandits suddenly leaped from a parked car and seized them. Miss Johnson was knocked senseless and her companion badly beaten.

As the two men fled with the girl, Mrs. Johnson ran to a nearby garage.

"They have kidnapped Helen," she gasped and collapsed.

Police, on the alert for the past month as a result of the activities of the "kiss bandits", trailed the machine to the lonely Wintergreen Gorge section. There they lost the trail and after circling all roads were unable to pick it up again until the kidnapers returned to the city.

The two women told police the men appeared to be between 18 and 20, of medium height, and were roughly dressed.

Feeling against the "kiss bandits" reached fever pitch here as a result of last night's bold attack.

Tomorrow opens the small game hunting season in Lawrence county. The woods will be full of hunters. The much repeated warning of safety first for all hunters, will bear re-emphasizing here. All hunters should make it their slogan for all hunting expeditions.

Tonight is Halloween. The weatherman seems to be co-operating with the Halloween committees this year. Last night was a perfect night for the East Side celebration, and indications are for just as fine weather for the South Side program tonight.

But for the heroism of two Wright field lieutenants, L. F. Harmon, Boise, Idaho, and R. K. Giovannoli, Lexington, Ky., all five fliers would have perished in the flaming wreckage on the edge of Wright field.

Wrapping coats about their heads, the two officers braved flames to drag the five victims to safety after the bomber, making a test flight, had crashed from a low altitude soon after taking off. Neither rescuer was burned severely.

Scout Sabotage

Dayton, O., Oct. 31.—Wright field officials today scout reports, current here, that sabotage may have figured in the destruction of the $500,000 Boeing bomber which crashed during a test flight, fatally injuring Major P. Hill and sending his four companions to a hospital.

Since being flown here from Seattle, Wash., early in August by Boeing Pilot Leslie Tower, the "flying fortress," as the huge four-motor bomber was known, had been constantly guarded. Army officials said it would have been impossible to tamper with its mechanism.

Three killed were:

M. T. Arnold, Cheyenne, formerly of Chicago, chief test pilot for United Air Lines.

Hanley (Abe) Cohn, Denver, a pilot for Wyoming Air Lines.

Edward Yantis, Cheyenne, mechanic.

Harold Kaufman, Cheyenne, apprentice under Yantis.

MRS. H. G. CUNNINGHAM HONORED AT SHOWER

One of the loveliest parties of the season, and original in every detail, was the surprise miscellaneous shower given in the home of Mrs. Frank Christopher at the corner of Oak and Ray streets Wednesday evening, in honor of her chum, Mrs. H. Glenn Cunningham, nee Carlotta Kerns, former teacher of the local schools.

The guests seated in the living room, completely overwhelmed the hostess when she entered, expecting to find some of her relatives awaiting her arrival to take them to her new home in Grove City, when they shouted "surprise." Teachers and friends of Mrs. Cunningham composed the guest list, and a period of informal chat ensued. A little different than the usual run of parties, the guests were invited into the dining room first, to be served, with the honored one, "taking the lead." She was given a pink ribbon streamer to follow, which took her to one corner of the dining room, where she found a huge "gift horse" of almost normal size, goggle eyed and in white. When disrobed, a collection of beautiful gifts of a miscellaneous nature, were found.

The hostess served a delicious lunch, at a table beautifully appointed in tones of pink and white, streamers of the same hues hanging overhead, tied to a huge white wedding bell, dropped from the chandelier. Unique cards with a bride and groom in miniature, in the corner, marked the guests' places. The center was graced with a miniature lake, outlined with dainty pom-pom clusters that proved to be individual corsages, which were later distributed to each guest. Mrs. Charles Scaglione, Mrs. Edward Doss and Jean Glenn, assisted. The delicious menu was enjoyed by candle light.

The remainder of the evening was given over to card playing, the bridge trophy falling to Ina Rosenberg and the 500 award was won by Mrs. Edward Doss.

MULLEN HOME SCENE OF HALLOWE'EN EVENT

Thursday evening, while many activities were taking place throughout the city in celebration of the Halloween season, "Jack, The Peepers" spied on the home of Miss Marguerite Mullen on Morton street, discovering weird characters in descriptive costumes, filing into their home, in perfect silence, sitting about until the last guest arrived, when a guessing contest was staged, as to "who is who." It was revealed, as to the group included all teachers of the West Side school, with their distinguished principal, Miss Nanette L. Mitchell, together with former members of the staff of the past two years, and Miss Theodore Pollock of W. N. Aiken school.

Merriment and laughter resulted in the various games and contests staged, for which prizes were awarded to Rose Solomon and Martha Matthews for their success. This was followed by an interesting feature when the hostess admitted Mrs. Sylvia Sturdevant, a neighbor, garbed in gypsy fashion, who endeavored to foist the futures of those assembled.

At the chosen hour, Miss Mullen with her mother, Mrs. B. H. Mullen, directed the group to the dining room, where they were given places about the long dining room table, decked out in colors of yellow and black, centered with a laughing pumpkin face filled with fruit and nuts and flanked by tall lighted yellow tapers on either side. A typical Halloween lunch was served, that too, was cleverly appointed in keeping with the season, which concluded an evening of entertainment long to be remembered by the participants.

After devotions a short memorial service was conducted as a tribute to 21 departed members. White flowers were placed as each name was read.

SIZING UP THE WINTER

WEATHER prophets have been in a kindly mood the past few weeks. October has given little excuse for fault finding. But what of the months to come. Well, if old traditions count for anything, perhaps nothing dreadful will happen during the coming winter.

We are told that mild October is usually the forerunner of a mild winter. A New York state observer has records of a weather station covering a period of more than a hundred years, and after studious compilation he finds that the tradition referred to proved right in 52 per cent of those years. Of course that makes it nearly 50-50 as to the character of the coming winter.

The pessimists will find little to comfort them in such a showing, but happily the average man and woman are optimists with respect to weather just ahead and subscribe to Longfellow's cheerful line to the effect that tomorrow the sun may be shining, shining, although it is raining today.

It is good philosophy to see the bright side of things until the worse side shows itself.

VOLUME AND COSTS

Weekly carloadings at the highest total since October, 1931, and electric power output at an all time peak—there can be no mistaking the importance of these recordings as applied to general business conditions. Taken together the two carry a dual significance.

Outside of what may be inferred from shipments of raw materials, carloadings totals, obviously, do not forecast production expansion. The latter may have been in progress for weeks before reflected in the increased traffic. By that time production may have receded again. In the present instance the mounting electric power consumption is fairly conclusive that the demand for finished goods continues apace.

This evidence of steadily increasing production volume is gratifying, but it cannot be accepted as a true indicator of the stage to which recovery has proceeded, because it does not mean that dollar volume has gained correspondingly. Then, too, as with the railroads, for instance, larger gross returns have been more than offset by the added costs saddled on them. So with industry, generally, and the larger part of the heavier burden is represented by taxes.

PEACETIME CONQUESTS

Members of the regular army establishment frequently comment without complaining upon the fact that there is relatively little public appreciation of the peacetime services of the army, which is far too often considered as having little practical value to the nation excepting in time of war.

Nothing more is needed to dispel the theory than a reading of the life story of Major General William L. Sibert, who died a few days ago in Kentucky at the age of seventy-five. Perhaps the highlights of his purely military career were his attaining command of the first division, which he took to France in the vanguard of the American expeditionary force, and his organization of the chemical warfare division of the army, which he commanded until his retirement from the army in 1920.

General Sibert's most brilliant accomplishments, however, were not in the field of active military service. During seven years in the Panama Canal Zone he built the Gatun locks and dam, constructed the west break-over in Colon harbor and excavated the channel from Gatun to the Atlantic Ocean. Numerous other great engineering projects were completed under his direction.

General Sibert was but one of many army men who, like Walter Reed, earned their reputations through their labors in peaceful pursuits.

WARNING FOR HUNTERS

The fall forest fire season is here, and the fact that hunters from your locality will soon be going into the woods for game gives rise to a serious menace in the form of forest fires.

Since most of the sportsmen are accustomed to throwing their matches and smoking materials into the city streets, they are apt to carry this carelessness into the forests with them. In this connection all hunters going into the woods tomorrow will do well to ponder over the following list of slogans prepared to impress them.

1. More game is killed annually by forest fires than is bagged by all hunters of the state.
2. A tree will make a million matches but one match may destroy a million trees.
3. Matches alone are not dangerous—it's the man.
4. The unburned forest is the game granary.
5. A cigarette may be down but not out—save the forests.
6. The time to put a fire out is before you drop the match—safety ever—fires never.
7. A fire in the forest, started by accident or carelessness, does just as much damage as a fire started intentionally.
8. Fire sweeps where carelessness creeps.
9. This is God's country—don't set it on fire and make it look like hell.
10. Fire burns the ground cover, the home of game animals and birds.
11. Fires drive away the game—a person who thinks won't burn the woods.
12. Would you burn your own home? Then why burn the forests.
13. Stop fires by not starting them.
14. A burning forest is a burning shame.
15. Cigarettes are irresponsible—don't let them go out alone.
16. Use caution—it beats blazes.
17. Sowing matches reaping ashes—don't make light of the match.
18. Forest fires destroy lumber and game, injure labor, kill industry, rob the community and increase taxes.
19. The best time to stop starting forest fires is now—be a hero not a Nero.
20. PREVENT FOREST FIRES—IT PAYS.

Bay of Fundy Power.
Religion Aids Mussolini.
Cheap Eggs for Soldiers.
Russia Votes Yes.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—Gov. Brann, of Maine, is unwilling to share expenses, and President Roosevelt may drop the Passamaquoddy power project.

That would be a national misfortune. While spending billions so freely, it would seem worth while to spend thirty-six little millions to harness the gigantic tide power in the Bay of Fundy.

Development of that project would supply the whole state of Maine with power and industrial prosperity, and pay for itself.

To allow the vast power of one of the highest tides on earth to continue going to waste would be as foolish as it would be to cease using the power of Niagara.

IN MILAN, Cardinal Schuster celebrating mass for those that died in the Easter march on Rome, indorses earnestly Mussolini's invasion of Ethiopia, praising "the valiant army which, in intrepid obedience to the command of their fatherland at the price of their blood, open the doors of Ethiopia to the Catholic faith and the civilization of Rome."

Also, according to Associated Press, the cardinal praised Fascism as "promising the national morality wished by the Catholic church."

ITALIAN SOLDIERS in Ethiopia, much surprised, can buy as many fresh eggs as they want at ridiculously low prices.

Ethiopians will not eat eggs; their religion forbids them to devour "that which might have life in the future," but they are willing to sell the eggs to the Italian soldiers and let them: imperil their immortal souls by "devouring future life" if they choose.

Ethiopian tribesmen have no scruples about eating the chicken, once it is hatched, which shows that religious scruples take interesting forms. What about the "future life" that the hen might have produced?

RUSSIA JOINING the League of Nations program of "sanctions" against Italy is not surprising.

The more quickly so-called "capitalistic nations" destroy each other the better Russia will like it.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

DEAR READER: Dear, Inquisitive, Embarrassed Reader:

You've gone out of your way to ask me a question, and I suspect you knew I wouldn't like it. You knew it would be a hard one to answer. . . . You grinned when you asked me. . . .

"Do you believe everything you write?"

Because you knew you were putting me on a hot spot. I can take several attitudes in answering that question. I could mount my high horse and in a lordly way disclaim that I certainly do believe everything I write, and only a base churl would cast such a low aspersion on my sincerity. . . . And I'd feel like a silly ass when I answered, and wouldn't convince anybody.

Because, you see, it's this way: Writing a column like this one is usually fun, but some day when you don't feel like writing anything, you don't want to work, and all your ideas seem stale, silly and lifeless. But you write something anyway. After the preliminary period of moaning and grumping you square away and do your job. You're paid for it, there's a space to fill, and you fill it.

So you put the article in the paper with silent apologies. . . . And the funny thing is that sometimes the article you've written under such circumstances is far better than you thought it would be. You meet a friend and he mentions it; some kind reader writes a letter about it. . . . And you begin to wonder how much sincerity has to do with the effectiveness of writing. You meant what you wrote, but you did it sort of mechanically without burning up any brain tissues. . . . And yet it made a mild hit. A funny business! . . . Because sometimes you rather like what you've just written and nobody pays any attention to it.

And sometimes you discover that you're writing something—and MEANING it—that you couldn't have meant a year ago. That doesn't mean you're a hypocrite. All this means is that you've changed, that what was true for you once isn't true any longer, and what is true for you today may not be true next Thursday at 2 o'clock.

So, Reader, I do believe what I write. I believe some of it with my mind, I believe some of it in my heart, in all of me that means anything. And I hope I shall believe it forever. . . . But there's no chip on my shoulder.

Correctly Speaking—

"Nearly" is often misused for "near." Say "He came near getting hurt," not "He came nearly getting hurt."

I am about to "introduce" my daughter. Please suggest an appropriate affair for this purpose. And tell me, should I invite her young friends only?—Mrs. W. E.

Answer—There is a wide variety of "coming out" parties from which you may choose. You may for this purpose give an afternoon tea, a small dinner dance, a small supper dance, a theater party and a dance or a ball. Just which of these is chosen must depend upon your own and your daughter's selection.

A ball is the most elaborate and most expensive function for presenting a debutante. An afternoon tea, with or without dancing, is popular and less expensive.

Not only your daughter's young friends, but your own should be among the guests present.

You may, if you wish to avoid expense, simply mail to your entire list your daughter's card with your own or a joint card engraved with both your own and your daughter's below it. This will announce that the daughter of the house is eligible for invitations and will eliminate the necessity of a debut.

Politicians Eye Midwest.
May Rule G.O.P. Choice.
Youth Speaks On War.

Central Press New York Bureau 235 East 45th St.

By LESLIE EICHEL Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The Midwest will rule the Republican national convention. Chicago seems to be destined to get the convention. Choice will be made in December.

In Chicago, three men will be strong—Knox of Illinois (although some look upon him as a New Englander), Landon of Kansas and Vandenberg of Michigan.

They probably will combine first to use a steamroller on Borah of Idaho.

Borah possibly could win if there were a presidential primary. In a convention, however, the man with the shrewdest organization wins. Borah is not an organizer. Many say he is not an executive. Many say he has no real understanding of economics.

That may be true—but he has a sense of justice for minorities and individual rights. That appeals to many persons, since it seems to have passed out of the world altogether.

PRIMARIES? Only a few years ago there was a renewed movement for presidential primaries.

As it is, Americans can express no real choice for the most important office in the nation.

For example, Harding was at the foot of the list in primaries held by various states in 1920. A convention "deal" by corrupt bosses in a back room at midnight brought about his choice.

And the candidate for vice president invariably is chosen by means of a deal. The people have no say at all on a vice president, yet four times in half a century a vice president became president.

NEW LABOR LINEUP

Persons who attended the recent convention of the American Federation of Labor in Atlantic City were impressed by one fact—that, in spite of apparent victory, the Old Guard had been routed. The Green-Wall leadership is expected to pass within a year. And with them will go the craft-union plan in favor of industrial unionism. Craft unionism is represented as being the platform of "reactionaries"; industrial unionism, as the vehicle of the "progressives."

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, really is the man on top of the A. F. of L. heap now. Even he, however, is expected to pass within two or three years for "more progressive" leadership.

The A. F. of L. is faced by two facts: (1) That its barring of men who would not accept its concept of organization is raising a powerful antagonistic force of workers; (2) and that force could be welded into a group by some minor Hitler, who would destroy the A. F. of L.

The terming of all opposition as "red" does not hide the facts.

Automobile and rubber workers, asserting they were deserted by the A. F. of L., are the chief nuclei for opposition. It is with some trepidation that the A. F. of L. leadership awaits the re-opening of the radio broadcasts by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin. The radio priest has been sponsoring the anti-A. F. of L. auto union.

YOUTH AND WAR

"I read with interest your article concerning Americans and war," writes J. Reader Huey from Brownsville, Tex.

"At the present time I am finishing up a journalistic course. In the past it has been my privilege to attend Duke University and Lafayette college. During the last two summers I worked on the S. S. Manhattan between New York and Hamburg; and on the S. S. Pennsylvania between New York and San Francisco. I have enjoyed meeting working boys, loafers, and students—all boys of the enlistment or draft ages.

"I believe that most of these youths would recognize war propaganda—propaganda that was not recognized in the last war. Youth today has access to such books as 'War Is a Racket' by Smedley D. Butler; the report of the senate committee headed by Senator Nye; and the documents proving that America fought in the last war for no apparent reason other than to 'save the world for democracy.' Youth today realizes what forces attempt to draw him into war. He does not want to fight for the munition makers, greedy statesmen or 'sloppy' politicians.

"I have heard many boys in college 'bull sessions' declare they would not fight in any war, whether for aggression or against invaders. Of course, there always is the radical element in any group. They probably would be forced to kiss the flag by an aroused nation in case of war should they maintain their stand."

"Of one thing I am sure, in case of a war of aggression, this country will have a problem in enlistments and drafts. The band no longer holds its stirring patriotic appeal. Youth knows that today war means death—death promoted by international schemers."

EQUALITY

What is the difference, if you please, When rich and poor eat bread and cheese?

If the house be snug when the cold winds blow, What more comfort can rich men know?

If the poor man sleep, can the rich man buy Happier dreams till the day draws nigh?

What is the difference, tell me, pray, 'Twixt rich and poor when their children play?

If both be happy and both be well, Which is the merrier none can tell. And side by side, does any one know The rich from the poor at a picture show?

What is the difference? In the end On love and friendship we all depend. If a welcome waits at the poor man's door, The man with money can have no more.

In love and friendship there's no degree And the rich man's friends can no truer be. (Copyright, 1935, Edgar A. Guest.)

Seventy-five members of the Lions club and the club's auxiliary, the Ladies of the Lions, attended the Lions' annual Hallowe'en masquerade celebration at the Liberty grange hall, Harlansburg road, last night. The grange was decorated for the occasion.

Arriving around 8, the masked participants entered immediately into the Hallowe'en frivolity generated by a committee of which Paul G. Dingley was chairman, held a costume-judging contest and later partook of a typical Hallowe'en lunch.

In the costume contest E. D. Marvin, dressed as a scarecrow, won first place, and Dr. B. M. Rogers, gowns as Halle Ellasie, took second honors. Mrs. Charles Pre, as a Japanese girl, was first choice among the women and Mrs. Charles Streib, outfitted as a country squire, was second.

The party was one of the most successful the clubmen and their ladies have held.

The committee in charge of arrangements included: Mr. Dingley, as chairman, and Numa F. Vidal, Jr.; John B. Waddington, Dr. J. L. Reed and D. E. Matheson.

Damage Suit Filed For Auto Accident

V. D. Schwartz And Wife Of Pittsburgh Sue Local Firm
For $15,656

V. D. Schwartz and Florence Schwartz, his wife of Pittsburgh, have filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against J. C. Brown Sr., Howard O. Brown and Everett Grainger, trading as John S. Brown's sons in which they ask $15,656 damages as a result of an automobile accident on November 2, 1933.

On that date Schwartz claims that he was driving on Kurtz street and was approaching the intersection of East Washington street. As he came to the intersection and had crossed the sidewalk he stopped his car to allow traffic to pass. While his car was standing still, it is alleged that a truck belonging to John S. Brown's sons, and driven by Merle Black, was backed into the Schwartz machine.

Mrs. Schwartz was quite severely injured about the lumbar region of her back, and it is claimed has been suffering from her injuries ever since the accident. Schwartz claims that it has been necessary for him to pay doctor bills and employ domestic help in his household through the inability of his wife to perform her usual duties.

New Trial Granted In Automobile Case

Judge Chambers Hands Down
Opinion In Case Of Butera
Against Preston

Judge James A. Chambers filed an opinion at the prothonotary's office today in the case of Joseph Butera against the H. G. Preston Company, in which a motion for judgment on the whole record is refused and a motion for a new trial is granted.

The case is one growing out of an automobile accident on the New Castle-Wampum road near Willow Grove. Butera was driving toward New Castle when a truck of the defendant company came around a curve. It is claimed by plaintiff that the truck cut the curve and crashed into the Butera car, which Butera claims he had driven as far to the side of the road as possible. The driver of the truck denied that he had cut the curve and at the trial of the case alleged contributory negligence on the part of Butera. The jury found a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $1,200. Under the opinion rendered today there will be another trial of the case.

Hilarity Rules At Party Of Midgets

Army Of Lads Of Y. M. C. A.
Hold Annual Costume
Party Last Night

Eighty-seven care-free boys of the midget class of the Y. M. C. A., attired in colorful costumes that ranged from the rags of bold pirates to spic-and-span uniforms of cops, participated last night in their annual Hallowe'en celebration at the Y.

There was a costume judging contest, a pie-eating contest and all sorts of games. The 87 joined in to say it was the merriest party they ever held.

Cider and doughnuts were served the boys following the special program.

scale, which destroyed fruit trees, by importing lady-bugs to destroy the scale. Stalin is wise enough to know that the simplest way to get rid of "capitalism" is to help it commit suicide.

THESE ARE big spending days. In New York state the year ending August 31 cost for "unemployment relief" more than three hundred and fifty-two million dollars.

The nation will soon be in debt forty thousand million dollars, and New York City's debt alone is bigger now than the entire debt of the United States government before the big war. Somebody will have to pay some day.

HITLER discovers now, Napoleon did more than 100 years ago, that stable government requires the co-operation of well-established religion. Perhaps Russia will make that discovery later.

The French Revolution got rid of the clergy, planned to get rid of with one "supreme being." Napoleon took charge and decided that he needed a "spiritual gendarmerie" as well as a military force, and restored the church.

DR. SCHACHT, head of the German Reichsbank, is aware that religion inspires respect for money and its rights, and aspires Hitler's announcement that "government will lead along the path of positive Christianity and not along false path of anti-Christian doctrines."

AT THE request of Gov. Lehman, of New York state, clergymen and educators map a plan to protect marriage and remedy the "serious breakdown of family life."

Dr. Goldstein, chairman of the Central Conference of American rabbis, shows that in 1867 there were 10,000 divorces in this country, in 1929 there were 201,000. Since 1870, the population has increased 300 per cent. Marriages have increased 400 per cent, divorces have increased more than 2,000 per cent.

THE AMERICAN College of Surgeons is informed that smoking before breakfast encourages ulcers of the stomach, Napoleon had ulcers of the stomach, causing great agony, but did not smoke before breakfast.

In any case, smoking before breakfast, or at any other time, will not do one-half the harm that is done swigging cocktails on an empty stomach, a vicious habit to which, even modern women are addicted.

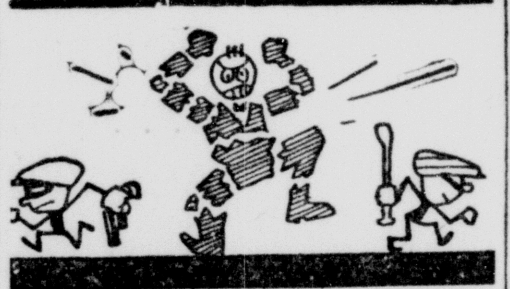

KEMAL, Turkish dictator, businesslike person, has no objection to fighting on a sensible basis. He will help England fight Italy in the Mediterranean or elsewhere. BUT certain islands lying within sight of Turkey's fortified shores must be surrendered to Turkey, and other islands removed from Italian control.

It was Mustapha Kemal who once sent word to Mussolini: "If you engage in war with me, your problem will be to find room enough to bury the Italians that I shall kill." Mussolini has not had time to attend to that yet.

For Bad Cough, Mix This Better Remedy, at Home

Needs No Cooking! Big Saving!

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this home mixture and try it for a distressing cough. It is no trouble to mix, and costs but a trifle, yet it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water for a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any drugstore, put it into a pint bottle, and fill up with your sugar syrup. The pint thus made gives you four times as much cough remedy for your money, yet it is far more effective than ready-made medicine. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

This home-mixed remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It soothes the irritated membranes, loosens the phlegm, and helps clear the air passages. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep.

Pinex is a compound of Norway Pine, in concentrated form, famous for its effect in stopping coughs quickly. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Supports New Deal Senator

President Praises Senator Byrnes, Ignoring Smith In South Carolina

BYRNES NOTED A "DEFT FIXER"

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S street
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—President Roosevelt, speaking at Charleston just after landing from his recent ocean holiday, paid a high tribute to Senator James P. Byrnes, loyal and efficient services to the administration.

It was natural in the president to praise Byrnes, a South Carolina senator, before a South Carolina audience, rather than to speak of the loyalty and efficiency of Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas or Senator Joseph F. Guffey of Pennsylvania, who are of no particular interest to Carolinians.

It struck many politicians as odd, however, that he omitted saying a good word also for Senator Ellison D. Smith, who is as much a South Carolinian as is Byrnes.

BYRNES UP FOR RE-ELECTION
There is the possible explanation that the White House tenant considered Byrnes more in need of ballyhooing than Smith at this special juncture; Byrnes is up for re-nomination and re-election next year, whereas Smith will not be a candidate until 1938.

Such reasoning might have accounted for a louder peddling of Byrnes than Smith.

But the presidential whooping it up for Byrnes, while ignoring Smith altogether, was distinctly noticeable. The truth is that New Deal strategists don't classify Smith as a New Dealer. They don't want a Republican in his place (a ridiculous idea in South Carolina, anyway) but certainly they wouldn't mind seeing him beaten for 1938's Democratic re-nomination.

BYRNES A DEFT "FIXER"
Byrnes is well known as an extraordinarily deft pro-administration "fixer".

He undoubtedly is as valuable on Capitol Hill, to the executive mansion, as Senator Robinson or Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, both of whom are "under the gun" for 1936 re-nominations (subsequent elections assured, of course). With Huey P. Long gone, as a probable campaigner against them, both are accepted as certainities.

Senators Lewis of Illinois, Bankhead of Alabama, Costigan of Colorado, Logan of Kentucky, Russell of Georgia, Sheppard of Texas, Neely of West Virginia, Bulow of South Dakota and Hatch of New Mexico all are next year's candidates and all are "persona grata" to the New Dealers.

The administration especially is interested in Russell, because the bitter anti-New Dealer, Governor Eugene Talmadge, is his prospective opponent for Georgia's Democratic senatorial nomination, with a 100 per cent assurance of election if he gets it.

Senators Glass of Virginia, Bailey of North Carolina, Gore of Oklahoma and Coolidge of Massachusetts rate as anti-New Deal Democrats. If renominated, New Dealers would not wish any of them to be beaten by Republicans, but they would shed no tears over a few defeats in the primaries. They would give anything to beat Glass, for example, but know there isn't a chance of it.

It is taken for granted that Senator Bachman of Tennessee will retire, in favor of Secretary of State Cordell Hull's nomination and return to the senate.

With Huey Long's elimination, Louisiana remains a Chet's puzzle: sure to be Democrat—but what kind of Democrat?

REPUBLICANS UP
Republicans whose senate seats are at stake next season include: Seven old-liners—Barbour of New Jersey, Carey of Wyoming, Dickinson of Iowa, Hastings of Delaware, Keyes of New Hampshire, Metcalf of Rhode Island and White of Maine. Two middle-grounders—Capper of Kansas and McNary of Oregon. Two radicals—Borah of Idaho and Norris of Nebraska. Two unclassifiables—Cousens of Michigan and Schall of Minnesota.

NORRIS O. K.
The New Dealers are ambitious to beat all of these with the exception of Norris, if he runs again (meaning 75, he has been balky, but probably will be drafted). A little critical at times, he has been a sound New Dealer in the main.

The old-liners are unqualifiedly anti-New Deal. Capper and McNary are political liberals; not New Dealers, however. Borah, though radical, is too constitutionalistic for the New Deal; too inflationary also. He is a queer mixture.

Borah and Dickinson incidentally are G. O. P. presidential possibilities. Cousens is a liberal with occasional conservative streaks. Schall is a conservative with liberal streaks. He is one of the fiercest assailants of the New Deal.

Search For Alleged Kidnap Of Tacoma Boy Is Extended

(International News Service)
ENSENADA, Mex., Oct. 31.—William Mahan, bank robber and kidnaper sought in lower California, may have escaped from the rugged San Pedro Martir mountains east of here in a "mysterious white airplane," it was learned Wednesday.

"Vaqueros," (Cowboys) of Salvador Meling, immigration chief, who first reported presence in lower California of the suspected Tacoma kidnaper of nine-year-old George Weyerhaeuser, revealed that shortly after Mahan was seen in the mountainous territory 117 miles south-east of here an unidentified plane was seen flying low over the peaks. Observers reported they could not tell whether it landed.

Meanwhile G-men from the United States were in this territory, ready to organize posse to seek the fugitive in the hills.

Banking Figures Show Business Is On Slow Upclimb

U. S. Banks Are Sounder Today Than For Quite Some Time, Is Report

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—An increase in business activity is manifested in banking statistics of all kinds, Rudolph Hecht, of New Orleans, president of the American Bankers Association, told President Roosevelt Wednesday.

The banking situation, Hecht reported, generally is sounder today than it has been in a long time.
At the same time, however, the bank spokesman advised Mr. Roosevelt that the government should withdraw from some of its financial activities as fast as improving times permit, and as fast "as banks are ready and willing to do that kind of lending."
"We want to be sure that our idea of American individualism will not be absorbed by too much paternalism," Hecht said as he left the White House.

Blind Student At Westminster Enjoys Studies

Makes Most Of Opportunities
Despite Handicap
Which Would Stump
Many

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 31.—Blindness is no handicap to Maxine Jacobs, Westminster college junior, McKees Rocks, who swims, applies her own makeup, enjoys the movies, and was one of the student directors of the play "The Finger of God" presented by the Westminster Little Theatre recently.

Miss Jacobs plans to enter radio work after graduation; she is a major in dramatics at Westminster. She enjoys talking, but finds mystery pictures hard to follow because of the excessive action. In class, Miss Jacobs takes her own notes; her roommate reads her homework. Class assignments, she hands in typewritten, being quite skillful at typewriting.

As recreation, Miss Jacobs reads

Readers Digest, the only magazine printed in the Braille system. Although a fair swimmer, she loses her sense of direction in the water when she wears a swimming cap, because she depends on her hearing to guide her. By hearing, she can tell when she comes near the sides of the pool-tank. Long walks and fishing are two of Miss Jacobs' favorite pastimes. Her motive in entering college was to make herself as much like other girls as possible—an end which Miss Jacobs has successfully accomplished.

Miss Jacobs is the daughter of George H. Jacobs, 114 Greydon avenue, McKees Rocks, a graduate himself of the Western Pennsylvania school for the Blind in Pittsburgh.

SAVAGE TRIBE MAKES ATTACK UPON ITALIANS

aimed at Dessye, important city north of Addis Ababa where the crown prince commands the base headquarters for the Ethiopian northeastern army.

Today's official information is the result of a fortnight's observation by Ethiopian scouts, and it affords the most important view of Italian strategy since the war started.

Italians Move Base

From this information it is apparent the Italians have abandoned the Southern slopes of Mount Mussa Ali and moved their base to the Northern slopes, where airplanes, tanks, and cavalry are assembled.

From this point the column launched across the desert. A detachment of 800 cavalymen set out apparently destined to cut southward toward the Djibouti-Addis Ababa railway, while the main body of troops continues towards Dessye.

The Danakil massacre of the Italian supply train was bloody.

The attack, which was a classic illustration of the battle tactics of the Danakil savages, occurred at 4 o'clock in the morning.

Italians Surprised

Completely surprised, the Italians were unable to use their machine guns, and were butchered in their camp beds.

It is significant that no mention in the official statement was made of any Italian prisoners. For the Assaimaras are one of those tribes which do not take prisoners.

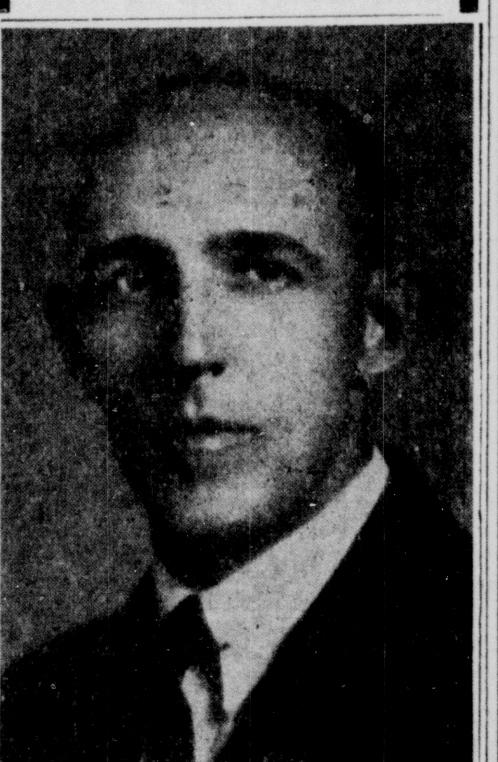

They also are one of the tribes

There was rejoicing throughout Danakil because although many such raids have been reported falsely since the beginning of Italo-Ethiopian hostilities, this is the first authenticated case in which the savages proved that their method of warfare is superior to the modern machine equipment of the enemy.

Reveal Italian Plans

Moreover, the incident throws further light on an important movement of Italians into Ethiopia from Assab, Eritrea. The supply train which was cut off and annihilated was working towards the new advanced post the Italians have established 60 miles due west of the Eritrean border.

These movements show the main lines of Italian strategy. From the North, Basing at Aksum and Adigrat, they are driving for Makale, which is as good as taken already.

From Makale they will continue to drive southward, aiming at Magdala, where General Napiet defeated the Ethiopians in 1867 in order to liberate a British consul.

Magdala is not far from Dessye, and the object apparently is that Italian columns from Makale and the Danakil desert will join somewhere around Magdala and Dessye, and thence drive along the fringe of the Ethiopian highlands towards Addis Ababa.

Should the Italians succeed in these drives from the North and East, they would cut off the Ethiopians from all traversable routes from the capital northwards. At the same time they are expected to attack from the south, driving toward Harar, which is more important strategically than Addis Ababa.

SMALL GAME SEASON WILL OPEN FRIDAY of the game bird family will be legal prey of sportsmen throughout the state.

Thousands Ready

Thousands of recruits to the state licensed army of hunters, booted and armed, were "moving up" to their chosen sectors today to be in the front line for the annual fall offensive.

Other thousands jammed the offices of county treasurers where clerks worked frantically to meet the increased demand for licenses at $2 per tag. The department of revenue here said it looked for an increase in the number of licensed hunters this year.

Fields and forests, drenched by general rains early this week, were reported much improved for members of the shooting gentry who will be "working" bird dogs and hounds. The downpour also was credited with reducing the hazard of fire in many wooded sections where the recent lack of rainfall left trees and brush too dangerously dry.

In addition to the bouncing cottontail "bunny," the state game commission has ordered up for the month-long open season grey, black and fox squirrels, the Virginia partridge or common quail, ruffed grouse, wild turkeys, hares, and in southern counties, racoons. Northern county coons have been in season since October 15.

Most coveted of all by the average hunter, however, was Pennsylvania's ringnecked pheasant. As in previous years, only male ringnecks may be shot, the bag limit being two a day and 10 during the season.

Other limits set for 1935 by the commission were: Rabbits (cottontail) four a day, 24 a season; squirrels, six a day, 20 the season; quail, six a day, 24 the season; ruffed grouse, two a day, 10 the season; wild turkeys, one during the season; hares, three a day, 15 the season.

Dollars and Sense for New Castle and Its People

A City-Owned Distribution System Will Save You and the City $400,000 Every Year!

On the basis of a reasonable capital investment of $1,233,988, as explained in our ad. last night, the above saving would be made.

It would save the small home user from $12 to $20 a year; the average business man about $85 a year; and the average industrial user about $2,400 a year.

What It Costs Under Private Vs. Municipal Ownership

Below we give in the first column what it costs us for electricity here in New Castle under the private power company rates, and in the second column what it will cost when the city owns the distribution system.

	Penna. Power Co. Per K. W. H.	Municipal Per K. W. H.	Excess
Domestic and Commercial ..	4.5c	2.2c	104%
City Lighting	4.4c	2.3c	91%
Industrial	1.35c	1c	68%

With these lowered rates, under the Municipal System, the domestic rate schedule would be: First 50 K.W.H. at 3.5c; next 50 K.W.H. at 2c; next 100 at 1.5c; and all over that 1.25c.

These rates would result in the following typical bills shown in the first line in the table below as compared to present company bills shown in the second line.

	50 K.W.H.	100 K.W.H.	150 K.W.H.	200 K.W.H.
City Bills— With Municipal System	$1.75	$2.75	$3.50	$4.25
Company Bills—Under Present Private Ownership	2.65	4.55	5.75	6.75

Saving $400,000 a Year

These rates would result in savings to the users of electric power in New Castle as follows:

Domestic and Commercial	$305,000
City Lighting	32,700
Power	62,800
Total Saving	$400,500

Other Cities Have These Rates—Why Not New Castle?

That the above rates and savings are possible is proven by the fact that other cities throughout the country are actually enjoying such rates and similar savings. Springfield, Ill.; Kansas City, Kas.; Jamestown, N. Y.; Cleveland, O.; Holyoke, Mass.; Tacoma, Wash.; some 300 cities and villages of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, Tupelo and other cities of the Tennessee Valley, the studies and report of the New York Power Authority covering 17 typical cities in that state and nine in other states; and finally an address by one of the leading engineers of the power companies, a Mr. Ostrander of Philadelphia, all give conclusive evidence that the above rates are possible, because they are actually in force in these cities.

Don't you think it would be good sense for you and the people of this city to save these $400,500?

Causes Of Most Home Accidents Being Stressed

School Pupils Take Home Questionnaires Distributed By Red Cross

EXPECT EFFORT TO BEAR FRUIT

Through the school children of Lawrence county, their parents are becoming accident conscious, each school child having been given a questionnaire this week, calling attention to the fact that this is Home Inspection Week, in the home and farm act, a prevention program of the American Red Cross, which they have been asked to take home to their parents and have filled out and returned.

This questionnaire asks that the premises be thoroughly inspected, and that any accident hazards found, be removed.

In this way, the Red Cross hopes to cut down the tremendous number of accidents, many of them fatal, which occur in the home and on the farm each year.

In 1933, it was found by the Red Cross that there were 30,000 fatal accidents with many, many more receiving disabling injuries, mostly due to carelessness.

Home accidents have been found to be due to articles left on stairways, use of faulty step ladders, overbalancing, permitting sharp edged tools and other articles to be about in an exposed manner, improper fixtures for gas stoves, allowing poison to be placed within the reach of children or in containers not properly labeled, permitting fire hazards to exist, and countless other causes.

The parents have been asked to accompany the children on a tour of their premises, and where hazards are found, to have them removed immediately.

It is believed the lessons in safety which are thus taught, will have an impression on both the adult and the child.

Play Presented At Washington Today

'Five Ghosts' Brings Storm Of Student Applause In Assembly

Spooky and full of shivery thrills, "Five Ghosts," a one-act play, was presented this afternoon by a cast of pupils before a howling audience of classmates at the George Washington junior-senior high school auditorium.

The play marked Washington's Halloween celebration. Miss Elizabeth Glover directed it.

Participating in the cast were Betty Reed, Helene Edgar, Dorothy Burton, Suzanne Flick and Anita Love and Forrest Raffel, Sam Byers, John Walzer, Dan Schnebly, Bob Ramsey and Sam Davey. The scene was the interior of a haunted house.

A chorus of Washington youngsters sang during the program and Ora Snyder led devotionals.

Six Hundred Are Enrolled At Westminster
 (Special To The News)
 NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 31.—The Westminster college's 1935-36 enrollment hit the 600 mark today when William Lawler, Sharon, enrolled as student number 600. Last year, women students topped men students by only 6, but this year the co-eds have an edge of 22. Of the 600 students 192 are newcomers, including freshmen and additions to upper-classes. In the senior class, of the 100 members, 44 are men and 56 women; junior class, 60 men and 57 women; sophomore class, 31 men, 76 women; freshman class, 91 men and 105 women.

All classes are quite evenly divided between men and women except the freshmen class, which has a surplus of 14 on the co-ed side. Included in the 600 students are 30 specials.

To Build Addition To Disposal Plant

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
 Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News
 WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31.—The Public Works Administration has received from Mercer county and Grove City officials documents formally accepting the grant of $36,000 offered by the PWA for an addition to the Grove City sewage disposal plant.

The PWA will now forward to Grove City a contract under which the city will pledge to supplement this federal grant with $44,000 in local funds. After this contract has been properly executed, the $36,000 PWA grant will actually be made available.

It is estimated that construction of the sewage disposal plant extension will require ten months.

A big favorite this season is a silk jersey glove which has a flaring, gandy cuff with an appliqued flower of pique.

G. O. P. Expects To Win District Back

Party Leaders Believe Beaver, Butler, Lawrence District Will Swing Back To G. O. P.

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
 Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News
 WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31.—The Lawrence, Beaver, Butler county congressional district is one of the sections which the Republican congressional committee hopes to win back to the G. O. P. in the elections next year.

Strategists of the Republican congressional committee are already laying plans for intensive drives to recover nominally Republican territory which swung over to the Democrats in the past two Roosevelt landslides. They are eyeing several Pennsylvania districts with optimism. One of these is the Lawrence, Beaver, Butler area which sent a Democratic member to the House of Representatives in 1934 after being Republican for many years.

It is not believed here that former Republican Representative J. Howard Swick will oppose Representative Eckert, Democrat, now serving as the district's member of the House. Rather it is thought some Lawrence county Republican will be nominated by the G. O. P. to campaign against Eckert, a Beaver county man.

City Will Get Use Of Auditorium

Robert White, city solicitor, returned last night from a conference with legal representatives of the Carnegie Steel company at Pittsburgh and today stated that he sees no reason why the Carnegie auditorium will not be turned over to the use of the city for recreational purposes.

The contract sent to the city by the company's attorney contained several clauses which met with objections, one of which was that the building could not be sublet.

White said that the company attorneys had suggested that he draw a contract, setting forth what the city was willing to do and briefly White said it appears as though the city can secure the auditorium.

Birmingham, England, will have its name painted in sixty-foot letters on the top of the largest gas tank in the city to advertise itself to the air-minded.

Kiwanians Have Party At Hotel

New Castle And Ellwood
Clubs Dine Here; Wives
Are Guests

VARIETY PROGRAM FEATURES AFFAIR

A contribution by a Grove City humorist, an exhibition of magic by a local young man, a farcical one-act play, a group of musical selections and an abundance of good fellowship combined last night to maintain Kiwanis party traditions when the joint Ladies' Night Halloween dinner-party of the New Castle and Ellwood City clubs took place at The Castleton.

Present for the evening of fun and frivolity were 112 persons, 34 of them being Ellwood City Kiwanians and their wives. The ballroom of the hotel was the scene of the party.

The humorist who kept the guests in a constant uproar was Joseph Ketter, whose banquet speeches have won for him a name. Donald Hoffmaster, Union township high school instructor, did the magic tricks. The one-act skit, "Here We Are", was presented by Miss Marian Rose Randall and Dudley M. Arnold. Mrs. Arnold gave the introduction to the play.

Vocal numbers sung by James Bowman, local teacher, featured. Pep singing led by Chester P. Reynolds, local Kiwanian, occupied the early part of the program. Mrs. Floyd Scheidemantle, Ellwood City, was the pianist. Charles Carbeau, Ellwood City, led the pep songs later.

President Gilbert E. Long welcomed the visiting Kiwanians and their wives and the wives of the local clubmen.

Orville Potter was the able toastmaster for the evening.

Harmony Baptist Campaign Started

Davis Party Conducting Nightly Services During
This Week

Tuesday evening marked the beginning of the evangelistic campaign at the Harmony Baptist church, located on the New Castle-Ellwood City road. The campaign is being conducted by the Davis Evangelistic party of Bridgeville, Pa.; Rev. Harold L. Davis, evangelist and music director and Miss Edna Mae Davis, pianist.

Services are being held each evening except Monday, at 7:30. On Wednesday the evangelist had for his subject, "The Wisdom of Soul Winning". The subjects as announced are as follows: Tonight, "Hash"; Friday, a Biblical drama in word, song and music entitled, "A Man Born Blind; Made To See"; Saturday, "A Hard Way."

There will be three services on Sunday and Rev. Davis will speak at all. The afternoon meeting will be at 2:30. The ordinance of communion will follow the morning service.

The Davis party, though young in years, are well known evangelists and have been instrumental in reaching multitudes with the gospel messages through the medium of their radio ministry. The singing of numerous chorus numbers; solo and duet numbers; as well as instrumental selections are the various means whereby they present the gospel message, as well as through the medium of the spoken word.

The pastor, Rev. S. L. Cobb, desires to announce that the quarterly business meeting of the church will be held on Saturday afternoon of this week at 2 o'clock.

FOR COMMISSIONER JOSEPH A. HANNON

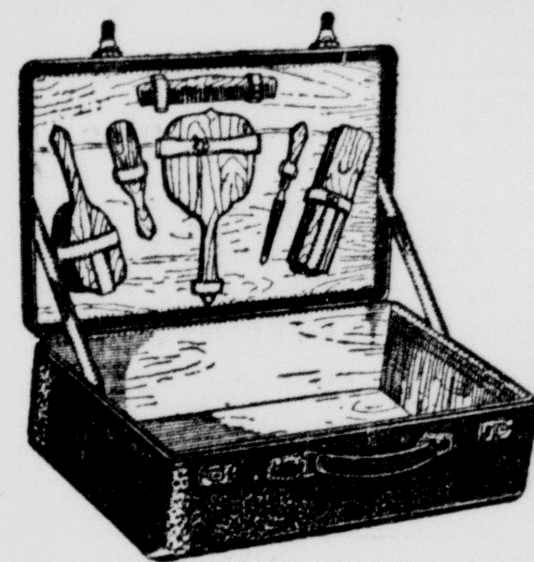

Seldom have the people of Lawrence county had the opportunity to vote for one so well qualified for the office of county commissioner.

Joseph Hannon is a member of one of Lawrence county's pioneer families. In the discharge of his duties as a former county commissioner, and in the conduct of a tinning and roofing business, in New Castle, for many years, he has built for himself an enviable reputation for HONESTY, INTELLIGENCE and FAIR DEALING.

These critical days demand that such a man be called to public office.

Harry Davies Says Use Of His Name Is Not Authorized

In a statement made today, Harry Davies, chairman of the Employees Representative Association of the Shenango Tin Mill protested against the use of his name on posters which have been circulated urging a yes vote on the bond issue.

"The use of my name is entirely unauthorized," said Mr. Davies. "I am not the chairman of any group favoring the bond issue, neither did I know that my name was to be used. It is an infringement of my rights which I resent and the posters must be removed immediately or action will follow."

Geneva.

"It is as well to know that this economic siege, of which all civilized people should feel ashamed, will be tenaciously fought and strongly despised," Il Duce declared in warlike terms at the inauguration of the new university city of Rome.
Mussolini's economic war call came on the heels of a royal decree ordering Italy's 500 to 600 merchant and passenger ships to make ready for instant mobilization and armament, in the event Italy must fight a blockade of her coasts as well as a league siege.

Expressing his satisfaction with the university city, Il Duce said:
"It coincides with the victorious advance of our troops in Africa, who, without asking anything, are bringing light and civilization to African soil."
Repeating that Italy would militantly resist this siege, Mussolini dramatically turned to the large audience, mostly of young men, and shouted:
"Students! comrades! will you be in the front line?"
"A formidable cry answers me—
"Yes!"
"Make this university like all other centers of Italy, so that it will become a training ground, a fortress, a bulwark, of that spirit which, when it is accompanied by force of arms, will not fail to achieve success."

NAVAL NOTES

By M. L. NIXON
Naval Recruiter, Second Floor Federal Building

It is being rumored through naval circles that the navy department will at the next meeting of congress, recommend that during the fiscal year starting July 1, 1936, that the following ships be constructed: One battleship, 12 destroyers and six submarines. Also it is rumored that the navy will increase the enlisted personnel of the navy to 100,000. The enlisted strength of the navy by the first of the next fiscal year will be, under the present plan, 93,500. The last battleship that was constructed for the navy was the U. S. S. West Virginia, built in 1923.

In 1840 the United States had a navy consisting of 7,500 officers and enlisted men—a mere patrol force.
It was honestly believed at that time that we would never have another war. Since that time we have been engaged in four great wars.
It would seem that from the foregoing that the Boy Scouts motto of
"Be Prepared" would also apply nationally.

The oldest man in the navy is 65 years old, and his first enlistment was on March 2, 1892.

POTATO LAW

The most amusing thing I have heard for some time, is having to ask some Democratic politician how many potatoes can a man plant. It seems as though you have to get a permit from the A. A. A. if you wish to raise more than five bushels. If you do not abide by these laws, you are subject to a thousand dollar fine for the first offense, plus one year breaking stone for the second offense. Supposing you would get a permit for to raise one hundred bushels, and you only raise seventy-five, you would probably be subject to another fine or some stone breaking. Of course if you are fortunate enough to get one hundred and twenty five bushels, we all know what to do in a case of this kind. Take the extra twenty five bushel, and dump them in a river, destroy them like they did the wheat and hogs. You farmers that are going to receive a couple of thousand dollars for not planting any potatoes will be a good deal like the fellow who received $85,000 for distributing a four billion dollar campaign fund, or fishing in some old mill stream.

Some one said Rip Van Winkle slept for twenty years. Three years snoozing should be sufficient for the people of this country. I have one bushel of onions, two bushels of carrots, and two bushels of beets.
Would some good politician please advise me if I will be putting myself liable, by putting them away for future use, or should I destroy them and be a hundred percent for the new deal?

In conclusion, how much are you paying for pork chops and bacon?

Take the Hayden Planetarium, the

the height of that young lady's pan-

Downstairs a few planets move around the sun as their private moons revolve around them—and it is all very instructive, in the semi-serving all this activity on the ceil-winning?" And it was a little like those little race-horses which glide in an orbit on the new baga-one goes to a zoo, it is one of the only drawback as spectacle being the state of mind of the other rubbernecks, who apparently are buying 25 cents worth of improve-of reluctant little boys into the NATURAL PLANT IODINE (don't confuse this with ordinary chemical iodine) even diets rich in fats and starches fail to add weight and strength. That's why thin folks

Council Airs Project Plans

W. P. A. Project Situation Is Discussed At Session This Morning

TO ASK BIDS FOR SEWER MATERIALS

Council met today instead of Friday, owing to the fact that Mayor Charles B. Mayne desired to go hunting. The body instructed the city clerk to ask for bids on material for a storm sewer to be built in Reynolds street. The bids will be opened November 4. The city will buy material and the WPA will provide the labor, according to council.

During the meeting, City Engineer G. R. Throop told council that the WPA had approved five projects as follows: Painting of street signs, Butler avenue retaining wall, Reynolds street storm sewer, Crawford Run ripraping and pointing of the Neshamock creek wall (along Water Street).

He said the total cost of the projects would be approximately $35,000, of which the city would probably have to pay $3,500. Before the motion to advertise for bids for material for the Reynolds street sewer was passed the councilmen discussed the projects situation.

The mayor, Charles B. Mayne, said that while the WPA would promise to start work they did not promise to have the projects completed to which Councilman D. O. Davies remarked that the WPA officials want to know how much they can spend on a wheelbarrow load of dirt.

Councilman Butler said a serious situation has arisen and council has been criticised. However, he said, that council can expect that although he had told some critics that the city has not received cooperation from the WPA.

Sounds Warning
"Who is doing the job here—us or the people on the street?" asked the mayor to which Butler replied that he understands the situation and that the council must stand for some criticism which prompted the finance director, Albert Hoyland to sound a warning note. "There is one thing important," he pointed out declaring "the city is now spending more money than it has. Why make arrangements for things for which we have no money to pay?" he asked.

Councilman Alexander reminded his colleagues that the council requested projects.

City Pays Engineers
"I am satisfied but do not know how much the engineering work will cost," said Hoyland.

The city engineer, Throop, said that the city would require about three men at a salary of $5.00 or $6.00 each a day.

Councilman Butler said the expenditure of $3,500 on a list of projects worth $35,000, would be an economical move.

Councilman Alexander said that the work now under way was progressing nicely and that the work is worthwhile. He declared five proposed projects are essential.

Councilman Davies said there is no question to this and added that whatever criticism arises council will have to stand it.

"We are the ones who are doing things, not the people on the street," replied Councilman Davies.

Corrects Impression
Engineer Throop said the impression had been given out the city has not provided projects and he had provided to some critics that this is untrue.

Councilman Butler said the Reynolds street sewer is essential. He charged a water nuisance exists in the street.

"The water was running there when money was flush. Why talk about it now?" asked Councilman Hoyland.

"We are not responsible for the mistakes of others," retorted Councilman Alexander.

Mayor Mayne then charged the city had spent $50,000, taking the pressure off Reynolds street when Moravia street was built.

The city engineer said there is no sewer in the lower end of Reynolds streets. He explained the section in which the nuisance existed.

Opposes Precedent
Councilman Butler said the only alleviative measure would be a sewer to which the mayor replied the residents knew this when they built there.

Councilman Alexander said the conversation was digressing from the main point, explained that conditions between City Engineer Roy Stewart of the WPA and his office had changed for the better after which Councilman Hoyland said:

"The thing I am afraid of is not the fact that this job may cost $100, in engineering service and the precedent it sets. By setting a precedent it may cost us thousands of dollars."

"The streets projects are not before us now," said Alexander adding that "these projects are ready and we must start."

Councilman Alexander then offered the motion to advertise for bids for approximately 900 lineal feet of reinforced concrete pipe, one section of which will be 24 inches in diameter and the other 15 inches in diameter. There also will be bought three sets of manhole covers and frames and five sets of catch-basin covers and frames.

THOUSANDS IN CELEBRATION IN EAST SIDE AREA

and colorful. Three bands and three drum corps blared out music for the marchers, red fire lighted their way, and they provided their own noise.

Leaving the corner of West avenue and Washington street at 9 o'clock the parade wended its way up Washington street to Cascade park. Here the huge parking lot was lighted with flood lights and the line swung past the judges' stand. About 150 prizes had been gathered for the mummies and the judges selected the winners as they marched by.

Two sound trucks went out about four blocks ahead of the parade, asking the spectators not to crowd the cartway and the crowd responded, jammed as it was from West avenue to the park. A police car followed, and then the members of the New Castle Motorcycle club, mounted on their mechanical steeds.

The judges came next in cars, then the chairman and the grand marshals, followed by the American Legion band.

In addition to the American Legion band there were five others. The Slippery Rock Bugle and Drum Corps with their snappy uniforms and still snappier playing, the Ellwood City Bugle and Drum Corps drilled almost to perfection in both marching and playing, the Benjamin Franklin junior high band, the Croton band, and the Sons of Veterans drum corps. Each of them headed a division with a division marshal and a group of aides presiding to see that everything moved along properly. Band Chairman Audley Henderson expressed his appreciation of the bands' service today.

Stretched out in line the parade was a mile long. The weather was ideal for a parade, the street was lined with thousands of spectators, and through the splendid cooperation of Chief of Police John F. Heinen and his men there was no traffic jams and no disorder.

Dance At Park

A Halloween dance followed in the pavilion in Cascade park with the crowd making merry until after midnight. The parade was successful beyond the expectations of the committee in charge and Chairman Carl W. Hauffler and his assistants are to be congratulated.

The band contest the American Legion band was awarded the prize of $25 and in the bugle and drum corps the Slippery Rock corps was awarded the $25 prize.

Following are the names of the parade judges and the winners: Chairman of judges, Earl S. McKnight; judges, Edward J. Ryan, Clyde B. Henson, James P. McGraw, Dr. E. M. Engelson, Dr. T. M. Shaffer, Dr. S. S. Jenkins, Dr. G. E. Seal, Frew N. Book, Harry L. Alford, G. H. Colnot, Thomas Ross and Alex Wrobel.

Question Man In Blumquist Murder Case

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—Police and city detectives this afternoon were making a close check of the past record of Harry Stoner, arrested as a suspected automobile thief, in an effort to link him with the brutal slaying of Frank L. Blumquist, New Castle plumber, near Portersville last August 19.

Detectives were at first inclined to absolve Stoner of any connection with the Blumquist slaying but decided to hold him for further investigation after several discrepancies in his story were uncovered, according to Detective Lieutenant William Egan. Stoner was questioned in connection with the Blumquist slaying because of his resemblance to an artist's sketch of one of the suspected murderers.

Egan and city detectives Frank Dedson and John Dillon said Stoner had a long criminal record and was engaged with a gang in robbing barbecue stands between Akron and Pittsburgh the past several months. They were checking to determine whether he was near New Castle, which is located in that section, at the time Blumquist was slain.

Held with Stoner were Richard Ferguson, 29, and Benjamin Butler, alias Benjamin S. Sturmage, 22. The trio was charged with having aided to hold him for further investigation after several discrepancies in his story were uncovered, according to Detective Lieutenant William Egan. Stoner was questioned in connection with the Blumquist slaying because of his resemblance to an artist's sketch of one of the suspected murderers.

Blumquist's slayers were injured when their car was wrecked in Harmony, near Butler, as they fled from the scene of the killing. It was from descriptions given by witnesses of the crash that an artist employed by state police at the Butler barracks had made a sketch of one of the suspects.

City detectives said Stoner was sentenced to 10 to 25 years in Ohio for robbery; two years in Sacramento, Calif., for larceny, and had served terms on various other minor charges.

Blumquist was killed in the Mercier hospital here with a head injury on August 19, the day of Blumquist's murder, but investigation showed it was two days later that he was in the hospital.

THE "UNTOLD STORY" ABOUT SLIPPERY ROCK

The "Electrical Consumers League," takes pains to DENY that its activities were started or are being directed and sponsored by the promoters of a Hydro-Electric Development on Slippery Rock Creek.

The FACTS are as follows. With these facts at hand the individual citizen of New Castle can draw HIS OWN conclusions as to who and what is behind the propaganda for the bond issue and behind the "Electrical Consumers League." A chronological review of the records of deeds and agreements which are a matter of record in the Lawrence county court house, reveals:

- (1) That on March 11, 1909 one Robert J. Kildoo of Slippery Rock Township transferred water power rights on Slippery Rock Creek, owned by him, to one Francis M. Butler of New Castle, Pa. (Recorded in Agreement Book, Vol. 14, Page 282).
- (2) That on July 8, 1918 one Frank M. Butler filed an application for a charter for the Lawrence Hydro-Electric Company in which it is proposed to develop water power from Slippery Rock Creek and its tributaries. (Recorded in Charter Book, Vol. 2, Page 240.)
- (3) That on February 4, 1926, the "Rader heirs" transferred to one William H. Butler of New Castle, Pa., a tract of 1,000 acres of land on Slippery Rock Creek. (Deed Book 257, Page 106).
- (4) That on September 13, 1928 one J. Howard Forbes and Mary E. Forbes, his wife, transferred 14.16 acres of land along Slippery Rock Creek to the Lawrence Hydro-Electric Company. (Deed Book 271, Page 218).

Add to the above court record the following facts which are a matter of common knowledge to the people of New Castle:

- (1) That the brothers William H. Butler and Frank M. Butler, in the period between the Fall of 1932 and Spring of 1933 endeavored to sell the above property to the Pennsylvania Power Company but that they refused to buy on the grounds that the project was not feasible.
 - (2) That the president of the "Electrical Consumers League" is Walter S. Reynolds who is known to be or to have been the personal attorney of William H. Butler, and that Mr. Butler himself is the most active member of said "Electrical Consumers League."
 - (3) That propaganda of the type carried on by the "Electrical Consumers League" creates a fictitious value for the land which it is hoped may still be purchased by the Pennsylvania Power Company or by other power companies.
- That before Mr. Butler could secure a contract for his "Lawrence Hydro-Electric Company" to furnish power to the City of New Castle it is first necessary that the City buy the distribution system from the Pennsylvania Power Company (the purpose of the proposed bond issue), after which such a contract could be hypothecated by Mr. Butler and funds secured for the development of his land.
- (5) That inasmuch as electric rates in New Castle are the lowest of any city in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and among the lowest in the United States, it is unbelievable that a municipal electric plant in New Castle would have been conceived by anyone EXCEPT as he had personal interest in doing so. The "personal interest" in this instance has been designated by The Non-Property Owners Protective Association as the unloading of a "dead horse" on the City of New Castle.

The undersigned committee has carefully investigated the proposal and are convinced that its adoption would raise New Castle taxes by approximately 40 per cent or our electric rates by approximately 30 per cent and probably both. We earnestly recommend that every citizen vote "NO" on the Bond Issue.

Bullish Demonstration In Market Today Strengthens List

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The stock market strengthened today after yesterday's reaction, with a bullish demonstration in Chrysler outstanding.

Chrysler jumped 2 points at the opening and then held most of its gain, anticipating favorable developments at the directors meeting later in the day at which the earnings would be reported and dividend action taken. It held most of the gain on subsequent profit-taking.

General Motors and other auto shares were higher but gains were not large. Aesop's were featured by large dealings in the Kelsey Hayes Wheel issues, both running up around 2 points to new highs.

Truck shares were strong and active, White and Mack touching new highs on the move.

Other individual issues to stand out included Philip Morris, which scored a substantial gain in the tobacco.

Bethlehem Steel featured the steel, rising a point in advance of the directors meeting late today. Other steels were firm but price changes were unimportant.

Utilities continued to edge forward. Low-priced issues were again active. Consolidated Gas was inclined to hang back. American Telephone rose a point.

Coppers were in further demand while some of the low-priced oils as Pure were heavily bought at the best prices of the year. Rails were colorless though displaying a somewhat firmer tone.

Grains rallied after their recent setback while cotton was steady. Bonds were firmer. Foreign currencies improved.

ANNUAL HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATION TONIGHT

Ghosts, Goblins, And Witches To Rule City In Big Celebration

PARADE TO FORM 7:45 THIS EVENING

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 31.—Tonight is the night for the spirits in Ellwood City. It is Halloween and the annual celebration sponsored by the merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce will take place.

This is one night set aside for merry-making of the ghosts, goblins and witches with free abandon. It is one time when there is not so much awe and fear-inspiring qualities in what may happen. Even the children get a little more braver at this time of year. They realize that this is the holiday of the spirits and no harm can befall them.

It promises to be one gala night in Ellwood City. It is expected that all other Halloween celebrations will be surpassed by this one. The various hard-working committees have spared nothing in rounding out an elaborate program. There will be music, noise and merry making from early in the evening until midnight. Innumerable prizes have been offered by the merchants which will be awarded to the lucky persons. The prizes will be offered for many costumes. The judging will be done during the route of the parade, which will be alighted by a red glow done by volunteers.

Dance After Parade. Following the parade and parade on the streets, a dance will be held in the Shelby auditorium. Here another worth while program will be carried out. A popular orchestra has been secured for the occasion. A door prize will be given and also prizes for the best costumes and special dances. The auditorium will be cleverly decorated for the occasion.

Police announced today that no cars will be permitted on the streets on the route of the parade from 7:45 until its close. The P. & L. E. parking grounds will be available for cars with an attendant to aid in parking the cars.

The Phalanx fraternity will operate a concession stand at the Central school building before, during and after the parade. There will be three bands in the parade.

Line Of March. The Halloween parade will form tonight at 7:45 at Fourth street and Crescent avenue. The order of the parade will be: American Legion Bugle and Drum Corps, followed by the adult division; the high school band, followed by the children's division, the decorative floats and commercial displays. The American Legion band will form on the north side of Fourth street with the individual adults masqueraders directly behind and with the adult groups such as Amos 'n Andy, Maggie and Jiggs, etc., across the street on the south side of Crescent avenue facing Fourth street.

The high school band will form on the north side of Crescent avenue just east of Fourth street with the individual child masqueraders directly behind and with the children's groups such as the Gold Dust Twins, bride and groom, etc., across the street.

Five tables of cards were enjoyed amidst Halloween decorations and appointments. Mrs. Williams Herge, Jr., Mrs. Anna Black, Mr. Daubert, and Dell Buquo, won the prizes for ladies and men respectively at the close of the games.

Lunch was served at a later hour by Mrs. Laura Herge, Mrs. Lola Wolfe, and Mrs. Ida Scott. On November 21 the club will hold a Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Dell Buquo on Line avenue.

MRS. W. H. GOEHRING ENTERTAINS HER CLUB ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 31.—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Goehring, Sr., entertained members and husbands of the B. Y. P. club at a winter picnic at the Marion Farms at their newly opened lodge, last Tuesday evening.

The evening was enjoyed in visiting, chats and games. The entire company cracked nuts before the roaring fireside. An appetizing dinner was served at a suitable hour. H. E. McClymonds delighted the ladies of the company when with a few, well chosen words he presented them with a key to the lodge. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of the McClymonds on Second street.

LEAVES FOR GERMANY ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 31.—Mrs. Anna Ostergard, who has lived in Ellwood for years, sailed from New York last night aboard the steamship Hamburg to make her home with a son in Vaihingen, Germany. She had resided here for nearly 45 years.

street on the south side of Crescent avenue facing Fourth street. Decorative floats should form on the west side of Fourth street beside the football field with the commercial floats on the east side of Fourth street and just south of Crescent avenue.

From this section the parade will move to Lawrence avenue and west on Lawrence to Ninth street, turning at Runyan's service station and moving back down Lawrence avenue to Sixth street and then south to Bell avenue, where the parade will disband.

Along the line of march it is the desire to have a constant glow of red fire. To accomplish this purpose about 30 volunteers will be needed from the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs. The volunteers will carry sticks of red fire down each side of the parade. The people in costume will march single column with one file on each side of the street. The volunteers should be at the corner of Fourth street and Lawrence avenue not later than 7:40.

Interest Is Keen On Ellwood High Aliquippa Clash

Two Top-Notch Elevens In Outstanding Game In District Here Saturday

ELLWOOD UNDER DOGS IN IMPORTANT TILT

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 31.—Day by day interest is mounting until it has practically reached the fever point on the important Ellwood City High-Aliquippa clash at Lincoln Field on Saturday afternoon in what is the outstanding game of the district.

These two flashy and strong schoolboy teams will hold the spotlight for on the following week both will in all probability meet undefeated teams. The game will give a good inkling on what the prospects will be for next week. Both of the teams are charged with one defeat, but have improved remarkably since then. The locals have won six out of seven games to date, losing only to Beaver Falls. Aliquippa has won four, tied two, and lost to Scott High of Pittsburgh. Entering a short slump being rated as the team to beat early in the season, Aliquippa has again regained its stride. Their performance of the 13-6 victory over Ambridge High last Friday stamps them as a formidable aggregation. The Lippenme are being installed as overwhelming favorites over the blue and white machine.

But on the other hand the Ellwood Wolverines have their supporters. They point out that the Schillman have shown satisfactory improvement with every game. Last Saturday against the highly favored Midland team they reached a peak that would make any coach proud of them. A team playing the brand of football that they did is hard to beat any time. Furthermore the Ellwoodians have shown a tendency to play their best game when the competition and going is the toughest. And they really yet have to truly open up. This will be Ellwood's fourth and final AA Class game.

Wide Open Game Fans who witness this game are in for a real treat. Modern football of the wide open style could not find better High School exponents than Ellwood City and Aliquippa.

Coach "Denny" Schill has already made a name for himself, with the flashy and sensational performances of his blue and white eleven. The famous spread formation, intricate forward and lateral passes executed in such an efficient manner, has been responsible for record turnouts at Lincoln Field this year. The locals have stamped themselves as one of the best scoring machines in the district. To date they trail Beaver Falls 133 to 140. Aliquippa is third with 126 points. The Lippenme are noted for their clever and speedy half backs and lateral passes on kick-offs and punts. They have thrown the piskin around like a basketball. Both teams have an effective aerial game. The best comparison of the two teams is in the man power where the valley outfit has the edge.

Ellwood Girding Hard While the town is debating the coming game Coach Denny Schill and his assistant, "Dutch" Croft have been grooming their charges daily until after dark, unmindful of the fiery arguments about them. Despite the consensus of opinion Coach Schill refuses to acknowledge defeat beforehand. By careful drilling on fundamentals and pointing out that Aliquippa has manhandled Ellwood regularly for the past few years, Coach Schill is developing his boys to the same high peak of last Saturday. If this is a reality, then lookout.

With one exception the Wolverines will be more fit for action than any time in the past several weeks. Jim Flanagan, regular right end, will not be used unless extremely necessary. The husky wingman has a strained ligament in his thigh and is in need of rest. He was not used last week. In all probability his place will be taken by Jiggs Hazen. Welsh and Bartle will be on reserve. The remainder of the squad is in fine shape. Much time has been spent in perfecting the running attack and aerial game. Several new plays have been added to the team's repertoire. The Ellwood Wolverines are going to shoot the works Saturday.

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 31.—Witches, goblins, ghosts and all the other strange characters that infest the country at this time of year wended their way last evening to the North Sewickley grange hall on the New Brighton road where the congregation of the Providence Baptist church were holding their annual Hallowe'en festivities.

Sees America Building Out Of Depression

Newly Integrated Housing Industry Expected To Lead Way, Steel Head Says

SAYS BUSINESS WILL DO THE JOB

By GEORGE KENNEDY, International News Service Staff Correspondent

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Oct. 31.—America will build itself out of the depression with the new integrated housing industry leading the way to higher levels of prosperity as did automobile manufacturing fifteen years ago, Charles R. Hook, leading steel industrialist, on Wednesday told the convention of the investment bankers of America.

Business and not the government will do the job, said the speaker who is a member of the durable goods industries committee organized under NRA.

Sees Industrial Revival
"When punitive legislation," he said, "drafted in a spirit of vindictiveness and designed to alter our traditional American system is hurriedly enacted without reasonable consideration and deliberation the result is only government hindrance."

Hook, who is president of the American Rolling Mill company at Middletown, Ohio, expressed himself more optimistically than ever before about the prospect of revival in the long dormant heavy industries.

"Every quarter century," he said, "a new major industry has, through individual initiative, been conceived and developed, which has provided our industrial system with fresh impetus to carry us on to greater development and an improved standard of living."

"In my opinion the development of an integrated housing industry properly organized for the production of homes, to make the advantages of low cost mass production available to the people, represents the greatest potential development of the times."

Recent experience in England, he said, points to what can be accomplished here. The committee on recovery of which he is a member, he said, had made a study of the English situation and it showed that one half of English re-employment was due to building.

England will build 330,000 homes this year, he said, while America will build only 60,000.

Dismiss Charges Against Creamery

Milk Control Board Dismisses Case Against Interstate Creamery Co.

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—Charges of underpayments to farmers, brought against the Interstate Creamery company, New Castle, were dismissed Wednesday by the milk control board.

The action was taken at a hearing session at which similar cases against a second New Castle firm and an Erie dairy were postponed for later hearing. The Interstate Creamery satisfied the board that milk they were charged with purchasing at less than board prices was acquired as sour cream, the price of which was not regulated by the board.

The company agreed to file a bond covering payments to farmers. At the request of counsel, hearings for H. C. Hale and son, Erie, and Walter T. Boyd of the Boyd Dairy company, New Castle, were postponed.

Release 19,000 Pheasants From Jordan Game Farm

Nineteen thousand ringnecked pheasants raised on the Jordan State Game Farm have been released for restocking the hunting grounds of western Pennsylvania since July 1, this year.

The birds have been distributed over western Pennsylvania by the game protectors of the various counties into which the birds were shipped as allotted by the Bureau of Game Distribution, a branch of the State Game Commission at Harrisburg.

Lawrence County received the largest number of these birds ever allotted to this county in one year, Game Protector Frank Coen having received a total of one thousand of the birds produced and raised to releasing age at the farm this year.

This is more birds per square mile than shipped to any other county from the Jordan Farm, and in addition to the thousand birds which this county received ready for liberation in the wilds for restocking purposes, two hundred day old pheasant chicks and 1,300 ringnecked pheasant eggs were also supplied by the Jordan Farm for raising birds for release in the wilds.

All birds raised on the state game farms, or hatched from eggs supplied by the state game farms must be released on lands not posted against hunting. The state game farms, as all other activities of the Game Commission are financed entirely by the hunters of the state through the Game Fund which is maintained through the sale of hunting licenses and for that reason the game produced must be released on lands where it can be hunted by the sportsman who finance its production and protection.

In addition to the larger number of pheasants which have been raised at the state game farms this season larger numbers were reared in the wilds due to the Game Commissions new policy of releasing male pheasants after the hunting season last year. The open season allows the shooting of the male ringneck only and in many places where the hunting is severe the male birds are often all killed leaving a number of hens but no males in the locality for mating the following spring.

Two thousand mature male pheasants are being held at the Jordan farm through this hunting season for release in western Pennsylvania in such areas before the spring mating season.

Reports received from sportsmen who have been training their dogs during the past few weeks indicate that there is an abundance of all kinds of small game throughout this part of the state.

The Board of Game Commissioners request all hunters going into the woods with firm arms to be always on the alert to do anything possible to reduce the number of accidents. Wear Red. Do not try to wear colors that will make you as near invisible as possible. Remember that any color that would make you invisible to game would also make you invisible to another hunter and might cost your life.
